

Healthcare Energy Fitness Initiative (HEFI)

Helping Healthcare Organizations to Thrive with Smarter Energy

The Healthcare Energy Fitness Initiative (HEFI) is an energy efficiency program designed to help eligible PG&E healthcare customers save money by optimizing their energy performance.

The Healthcare Energy Fitness Initiative provides a no-cost energy audit, connecting you with an energy expert and your PG&E Account Manager to identify, approve, fund, and complete projects.

Our comprehensive approach identifies projects from low-cost optimizations to equipment retrofits. We handle complex HVAC systems and central plants, lighting, data center equipment, refrigeration, sensitive process equipment, and more. In addition, we also support electrification and can provide 0% interest loans through PG&E's On-Bill Financing (OBF).

How it works

1

Contact Us

Contact us for a quick and simple screening evaluation to confirm if you are eligible.

2

Project Identification

Program experts complete a detailed energy audit, develop an installation plan, and calculate your incentives.

3

Project Installation

Selected measures are installed using in-house staff, a qualified contractor of your choice, or a turnkey Delivery Partner.

4

Energy Savings Verification

Program experts confirm savings and provide you with the verification report detailing the achieved impacts.

5

Incentive Payment

Financial incentives are available to reduce project costs, with $0.10 per kWh and $1.00 per therm offered on claimable savings.

What You'll Get

- Expert technical assistance and an energy audit at no cost
- Personalized end-to-end project support
- Bill savings and quantifiable GHG reductions
- Financial incentives are available to reduce project costs, with $0.10 per kWh and $1.00 per therm offered on claimable savings
- Provide your employees and clients a safer, more comfortable workplace with your new energy upgrades

Eligibility

- Customer must receive electric and/or gas service from PG&E and pay the Public Goods Charge or Public Purpose Program Surcharge
- Healthcare customers including hospitals, outpatient, residential care, and social assistance facilities
- Customers will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis for acceptance into the program

Funding is limited - Get started today!

Contact Us

Telephone: 888.237.4334

Email: HEFI@resource-innovations.com